

ALVIN BISARYA, MD

Vice President, Strategic Partnerships,
Health Care, and Nursing

Email: abisarya@kaplan.edu
Ph: 847.302.7789

Alvin Bisarya is focused on leveraging Kaplan University's 75+ years of experience in performance improvement through education to meet the strategic needs of hospitals and health care delivery organizations. Alvin earned his bachelor's degree from Brown University and his doctoral degree from Northwestern University's Feinberg School of Medicine.

In previous roles, Alvin was vice-chancellor of strategy at the City Colleges of Chicago, responsible for leading system-wide efforts to significantly improve student outcomes, and was an engagement manager at McKinsey and Company, focusing on serving providers and payors in the private, public, and non-profit sectors.

