Starting out as an admissions advisor just four years ago, Anthony Stephens advanced to his current role as a national account manager in the spring of 2015. Anthony is responsible for developing new business and growing and maintaining existing corporate relationships. He also manages the team's reporting and statistics.

Anthony has over 15 years of corporate sales experience in a variety of industries, including education, pharmaceuticals, sports, telecommunication, and travel. A native of Pittsburgh, he is a proud graduate of the Palumbo Donahue School of Business at Duquesne University. Anthony currently resides with his family in Atlanta, GA.
